Market Technical Outlook

Nifty opened higher but witnesses selling pressure in the latter half of the session which dragged nifty to close in red. On the daily chart we are observing that prices came very close to the 21-days SMA of (17588) by making a low of 17613 level. Hence any daily close below the mentioned level would mean that the uptrend is coming under pressure. In coming trading session if Nifty for first hour trades holds 17588 then we may see a bounce up to 17700 – 17800 levels. On the downside below 17588 the next support for nifty is at 17550 – 17450 levels.

We still continue to maintain our stance that stock specific activity is likely to continue.
