Market Technical Outlook

Nifty opened higher traded with extreme choppiness and finally managed to close in red. On the daily chart we are witnessing two consecutive narrow range body formations which suggest that a consolidation or minor pullback of current rise cannot be ruled out. In coming trading session if Nifty for first hour trades above 17408 level then it may test 17480 – 17550 levels. On the downside, 17260 – 17180 levels may act as support for the day.

We still continue to maintain our stance that stock specific activity is likely to continue.
