Nifty, opened higher but was unable to sustain the opening gains and selling dragged down nifty to close in red. On the daily chart, we are observing a bear candle at the supply zone of 18300 to 18350 (shown above in the graph market with yellow line). In coming trading session if nifty trades below18117 level then it may test 18000 – 17900 levels. On the upside, 18220 – 18350 level may act as resistance for the day. We still continue to maintain our stance that, looking at the position of the short term moving averages and position of the momentum indicator viz. RSI. We may see some minor correction or consolidation but eventually markets may witness upside momentum. Hence, one should adopt positive approach at current level.
