Market Technical Outlook

Nifty, initially traded with negative bias but witness smart buying in the latter half of the session which led nifty to close in green. On the daily chart, we are observing that prices have taken support at the 21-day SMA and formed a positive candle. This suggests that momentum on the upside may continue. In coming trading session if Nifty trades above 13500 levels then it may test 13600 – 13700 levels. On the downside, 13200 – 13100 levels may act as support for the day.

Broadly we are of the opinion that 13000 – 13300 is strong demand zone. Hence a strong bounce cannot be ruled out from current level. Hence, one needs to adopt cautiously positive approach at current level as stock specific activity is likely to continue.
